

Integrated Curriculum - 'Home from Home' Vikings

Topic focus: Geography, History, and Science

In History will explore the Vikings and we will be going on an exciting trip! We will learn about Viking invasion, life as a Viking, and weapons and tools. Our final outcome will be a double page spread to understand and explain why people have migrated in the past, present and future.

Geography we will be using maps to understand our place in the wider world while also considering the human and physical features of the world. To bring this learning to life we will be going on a walk around Narborough to recognise human and physical features. Following this walk we will be creating our own maps of Narborough using technology!

We will finish the term with a science topic thinking about life cycles and reproductive cycles.

Music

The children will be receiving whole class ensemble tuition in steel pan drums delivered by an expert music teacher from the Leicestershire Music Hub. They will be developing their skills in playing the steel pan drums including work around rhythm, notes, chords and learning how to play as part of an ensemble. The children will have the opportunity at the end of the year the showcase their skills and the pieces they have learnt to an audience.

'Journey to Jo'Burg' - By Beverly Naidoo

We will be reading this novel set during Apartheid South Africa, following the journey of two young children in search of their Mother. We will study Apartheid as part of this and create biographies all about Nelson Mandela. We will then try to put ourselves in the characters' shoes and write a persuasive speech aimed at the SA government.

We will then use our topic learning to produce a discussion text about the impact of Anglo-Saxons and Vikings on Britain, followed by an action-based narrative based on 'Viking Boy' by Tony Bradman.
